

Meet Rachelle Dene Poth

Rachelle Dene Poth, J.D. is a longtime French, Spanish and STEAM Teacher and an EdTech Consultant. Rachelle is also an Attorney, has a Master’s Degree in Instructional Technology, and serves as President of the ISTE Teacher Education Network and Communications Chair for the Mobile Learning Network. She received the Presidential Gold Award for Volunteer Service to Education, was selected as One of “20 to watch” by the NSBA, the 2017 PAECT Outstanding Teacher of the Year, and is a Future Ready Instructional Coach. Rachelle is the author of uNconventional: The Impact of Thinking Differently in the Classroom, Book 3 in the uNseries, and is currently writing two additional books on education which will be released in Spring 2019. She is a contributing author to several books including EduMatch Snapshot in Education 2016, 2017, 2018 and Gamify Literacy. She is a regular teacher blogger for DefinedSTEM, Getting Smart, and Kidblog. Rachelle co-moderates #Formativechat on Mondays Rachelle is based in Pittsburgh and can be found on Twitter at @Rdene915 and on her “Learning as I Go” blog site at www.Rdene915.com.