

Meet Rebecca Coda, NBCT

Rebecca Coda, NBCT is currently a K-6 Director of Curriculum & Instruction in Cabot, Arkansas. She is the founder of the Digital Native Network and is a social justice warrior and advocate for student voice and equity. Rebecca is the mother of three children of trauma adopted from the foster system. She is a national speaker with over ten years of experience facilitating professional development in all content areas grades K-8 for district administrators, principals, instructional coaches, educators & parents. She has served as a classroom teacher, instructional coach, district level ELA curriculum specialist, and district-wide technology Integration specialist. Her true passion is learning and growing from everyone around her to support the academic success of all students. She leads with impact and will settle for nothing less than making a difference for every child. You can learn more about her work at www.rebeccacoda.com and @RebeccaCoda on most social media channels.

Her books include:

